

LINKVIL Wireless Conference Kit CA200

Linkvil CA200 is a wireless conference kit designed to streamline deployment and boost meeting efficiency. With an integrated transmitter and receiver, one CA200 hub can connect up to four CP20 screen-sharing pods simultaneously—no system integration required. Just plug and play for instant setup. It supports 4K wireless casting and allows seamless switching to freeze mode, enabling smooth presentations and flexible collaboration in various scenarios. Compact and portable, CA200 is compatible with multiple devices, helping to eliminate cable clutter and create a cleaner, more productive meeting environment.
