Save space and stay flexible

The Gigaset DA210 is wall mountable to reduce clutter. The handset end of the cable can be stretched from nearly half a metre to up to three metres. The cable from the telephone to the socket adds another two metres and allows even more freedom of movement.

Get connected in seconds

The Gigaset DA210 doesn't need a separate power supply and never needs charging. Simply plug it into a telephone socket on the public network, or into a private branch exchange or gateway, and start calling.

An operation manual is included and enables setup in just seconds.

Enjoy convenience and save time

With up to ten speed dial entries possible, you'll spend less time searching for phone numbers on the Gigaset DA210 and more time taking care of business. The handy last number redial function also lets you get back to your last conversation at the push of a button.

Control your conversation

Need to speak with someone in the room while preventing your calling partner from hearing? Keep the caller on the line and hit the mute key so they can't hear you. The Gigaset DA210 also gives you a choice of three ringtone melodies and volumes. You can choose to turn the ringtone off and receive incoming calls via visual call notification. Another important feature for those with hearing impairment: the Gigaset DA210 is hearing aid compatible.

The Gigaset DA210: the compact, corded, wall-mountable phone for basic telephony needs. With basic functionality designed for ease of use, this is perfect for anyone who requires a simple corded telephone.

GIGASET. INSPIRING CONVERSATION.
