

SCREENFORCE™ INVISIGLASS® ULTRA ANTI-MICROBIAL SCREEN PROTECTOR

InvisiGlass Ultra offers improved scratch resistance, reduced scratch visibility, and better drop performance than screen protectors made from tempered glass and plastic. All this from a crystal-clear glass material that is only 0.29mm thin to preserve touchscreen sensitivity. Improve your iPhone device's resilience without sacrificing the screen's look and feel. The protector also contains an anti-microbial agent to protect the screen from microbial growth.

Throw your phone in your bag or pocket with keys and keep that fresh out-of-the box finish because your screen protector was awarded the highest possible score in scratch resistance (9H) and finished with an anti-fingerprint coating. All of this delivered in just 0.29mm with precision touch sensitivity and crystal clarity that maintain the look and feel of your screen. A flawless, bubble-free application is easy at home or in-store.
