SCREENFORCE®
ULTRAGLASS ANTI-MICROBIAL SCREEN PROTECTOR

Protect your new smartphone with an ultra-tough screen protector that's up to 2x stronger than tempered glass.*
The German-engineered glass has been double ion-exchanged for better drop and impact protection.
The protector also contains an antimicrobial agent† to protect the screen from microbial growth.

Throw your phone in your bag, or pocket with keys, and keep that fresh out-of-the box finish because your screen protector was awarded the highest possible score in scratch resistance (9H) and finished with an anti-fingerprint coating. All of this delivered in just 0.29mm with precision touch sensitivity and crystal clarity that maintain the look and feel of your screen. A flawless, bubble-free application is easy at home or in-store.

Product Benefits

- Ultra-impact protection using German-engineered glass
- Double ion-exchange strengthened glass replaces smaller molecules with larger ones for a material that is up to 2x stronger than tempered glass*
- Antimicrobial coating reduces 99% of bacterial growth on the product surface
- Precision touch sensitivity through intelligent glass composition that reacts like your phone's own screen
- Scratch resistance that's been awarded the highest score (9H) prevents scuffs and scratches from daily wear and tear
- Incredibly slim at just 0.29mm, you hardly notice the ultra-tough layer of protection
- Crystal-clear so you can see photos and videos as they're meant to be viewed
- Flawless application at home or in-store provides a bubble-free finish with no lifting
- An anti-fingerprint coating keeps your phone smudge-free
