Master Key Notebook Lock 25x

Artikelnummer: 591591

This ARTICONA security lock set helps you to effectively secure your IT devices and protect them from theft. The cable lock is suitable for devices with a Kensington slot and can be easily used and fastened. Thus, for example, notebooks, monitors, docking stations, projectors or scanners can be secured, provided that a suitable security slot is available on the device. The PVC-coated steel cable is robust and yet beautiful to look at. It is flexible, which allows for optimal placement of the security system. The lock head can rotate flexibly so that the cable can be placed optimally. A special feature is that all 25 locks in this set, in addition to their individual two keys, can also be opened by the enclosed general key („master key“). This makes it much easier for you to organise and manage the workstations. When re-ordering, the customer receives the same set again - same locking system and same master key. The master key cannot be reordered. The locking circle can be extended to up to 1000 individual locks.
